

Oncological Surgery Symposium 2019 (13-15 March 2019, Sirkka, Levi, Finland)

Finnish Digestive Surgeons and Finnish Oncological Society

Presymposium (Wednesday)

What is the future of cancer treatment? What can we afford? What is the patient's interest?

- the oncologist's speech by docent Jussi Koivunen
  - surgeon's speech by docent Sari Venesmaa
- 1800-2000

Symposium

Thursday

0745-0815 Coffee and exhibition

0815-0845 MIE and other new surgical options for esophageal cancer. docent Jari Räsänen

0845-0915 Surgical treatment of gastric carcinoma. docent Tuomo Rantanen

0915-0945 Oncologic treatment of Foregut cancers. MD Raija Kallio

0945-1015 Coffee and exhibition

1015-1045 Surgical treatment of pancreatic cancer. prof Johanna Laukkarinen

1045-1115 Oncological treatment of pancreatic cancer - is there light on the boundaries of darkness?

1115-1215 Treatment of hepatocellular cancer surgeon: prof Heikki Mäkisalo

oncologist:

1215 Lunch

1315-1500

Exhibition and video sessions: laparoscopy in cancer treatment, navigation systems in surgery, new drug action mechanisms

1630-1700 Surgical treatment of colonic carcinoma. MD Anu Erlich

1700-1730 Carcinoma of the colon for the oncologist. docent Raija Ristamäki

1730-1800 Carcinoma of the colon for the pathologist. MD Vesa Kärjä

1800-1830 Panel discussion, patient cases. MD Vesa Pokela

1900 Dinner

Friday

0800-0830 Coffee and exhibition

0830-0900 Surgery's most important developments in the next few decades. docent Vesa Koivukangas

0900-0930 Targeted treatments in oncology - surgery for cancer disappears in the decade? docent Jussi Koivunen 0930-1015 Challenges of lymphoma diagnostics - how to get rid of excessive morbid diagnostics?

surgeon: MD Mika Ukkonen

oncologist: MD Hanne Kuitunen

pathologist MD Vesa Kärjä

1015-1045 Coffee and exhibition

1045-1115 Surgical treatment of rectal carcinoma. MD Pirita Varpe

1115-1145 Oncological treatment for rectal carcinoma.

1145-1245 Lunch and exhibition

1245-1315 Carcinoma of anal canal

surgeon: MD Timo Tomminen

oncologist

Closing